

Need to offer a Professional Service?

Looking for anybody who wants to learn speak in English. For meetings oriented to Business.

Professionals, who speak English, in order to communicate with other Professionals from other countries, like Canada, India, United States and France as well.

At times, this kind of countries work too much. People can learn to speak in English. I could offer meetings about how to express English expressions or behave in difficult situations when somebody have to talk about a specified topic or subject in front of People.

These meetings oriented to Business, would be affordable. However, the first ones would be for Free.
